

OF ELEPHANTS AND MEN

News

- On this page appear chronologically the latest news on elephants and their conservation.
 - All our readers are invited to participate to this page sending us by mail new information. All readers motivated to become writers are welcome and may contact us by mail.
-

Projects and eco-volunteering

- On this page appear all the projects related to the three species of elephants and the projects on their habitats. They are classified by country;
 - For those interested in eco-volunteering, we signal if the project welcome ecovolunteers and we give the means of contacting them.
 - We invite all persons or organizations responsible for a project related to elephant conservation and human-elephant relation . The Association Des Eléphants et Des Hommes wishes to be a French partner in particular in the quest of support needed by all projects in the field.
 - If you know a project dealing with elephants not mentioned in this page, please inform us by e-mail.
-

Symposiums and exhibitions

- On this page, we inform on all symposiums and exhibitions about elephants and nature conservation. They are classified by decreasing dates.
 - Every organisation or person preparing a symposium or an exhibition on elephants and the conservation of nature in general are invited to give us all necessary information for us to announce this event. The Association wishes to share all its existing means with the organisation of the event if they can be useful to its success.
 - If you have heard about a symposium or exhibition related to elephants, wildlife or nature conservation, please contact us by e-mail.
-

Research

• • • On this page we mention all scientific articles on the elephant. All fields are represented: biology, ecology, ethology, anatomy, physiology, ethnozoology, paleontology, genetics, arts ... They are classified by first authors, then by decreasing date. The abstract only is shown here but a link to the full article is sometimes available.

••• As of today, this page has not been developed. Any person wishing to develop this page is keenly invited to contact us. The ideal profile would be a person familiar with the field of research and experienced in the conception of internet database. As of today our goal is to develop a page of statistics and a database available on internet where would be shown all documents, scientific articles, symposium proceedings, documentaries, broadcast programs, related to elephants.

Books

• • • On this page are shown all books related to elephants, as well as books of reference on wildlife and nature. They are classified by first authors, then by decreasing date. We only present a summary here but sometimes a link to a website selling the book is available.

••• With the aim of creating a documentary basis, we invite every person who is eager to participate and has the possibility to give a free copy of the following books to the Association. In the future we wish to put this documentary basis at the disposal of the public. This message is particularly intended for the authors who are cordially invited to contact us if they want to bring to light their books.

••• If you know a book about elephants which is not mentioned on this page or if you notice a mistake, please let us know sending us an e-mail..

Documentaries and films

• • • On this page are mentioned all the documentaries about the elephant species, as well as some documentaries of reference on nature and environment stakes. They are classified by directors then by realisation dates.

••• We particularly invite all directors and production companies to inform us on new documentaries about elephant and nature conservation. We also organise meetings with directors over a projection of their documentary (ies) and we would be honoured to show your work to our network.

••• If you have heard about documentaries or films about elephants which do not appear on this page, please let us know by e-mail. We are also looking for a person motivated, particularly interested in documentaries, to join us and run this page.

On TV and radio

••• You will find on this page chronologically and by decreasing date the weekly TV and radio programs on elephants and wildlife conservation.

••• You just have to open the file which is on PDF format, which is easy to open and print.

••• To be able to read a PDF document you need to have the software Acrobat Reader from Adobe .

Our readers' travel stories

••• You will see on this page the travel stories of our readers who had the opportunity to see the elephants on their habitats. These travels are not only real but imaginary, therefore on our website we can show stories, short stories, in general, works of art inspired by elephants.

••• Every reader is invited to submit its story(ies) under a free form (it can simply be a link to a personal website) or according to the pattern we propose. For those who wish to share with us their stories but who do not know how to build a website, do not hesitate to contact us by e-mail.

••• Often stories are backed up by photos, therefore these pages may take time to open if you do not have ADSL connection.

Join us!

••• Des Eléphants et Des Hommes is an association under the French law of 1901, that is a non profit-making association. Its two main missions are:

••• Inform and heighten the largest public's awareness of the elephant conservation issue, elephant as species, but also as symbol of a wild nature more and more threatened.

••• Act, supporting from France, field projects. As of today, the Association supports two projects about conflictual relations between communities and elephants in the Okavango delta, Bostwana, in Southern Africa. These projects are lead by Living With Elephants Foundation: www.livingwiththeelephants.org

••• To join, become an active member of or give your support to the association Des Eléphants et Des Hommes and its partners, please contact us.

Translated from French to English by Anne-Christine Procope

